Our job is to realize your vision.

our process

design

Our process begins with collaboration and creating preliminary drawings, renderings, and budget pricing. As the design evolves, we work closely with you to bring your vision to life.

Our in-house engineering team develops precise calculations and designs for foundations, frames, roofs, and connections. Our signed and sealed deliverables meet the installation requirements specific to the location and are ready for the permitting process, saving time and additional costs.

fabrication

Our HSS tube steel canopies are meticulously crafted, to reduce bird nesting ledges, enable hidden bolts and allow for internally-routed conduit. Finished parts receive our Poli-5000 powder coat finish for a sleek look and the most durable coating in the industry, all backed by a 10-year warranty.

installation & support

We provide project-specific installation drawings to facilitate an efficient installation process of our bolt together canopies. Poligon structures do not require field welding or cutting of steel members. Ongoing support is also available throughout the process to ensure any unforeseen issues get resolved quickly and cost effectively.

entrance canopies
